How will you receive your images?

Turnaround time for edits takes up to 3 weeks.

I will deliver a proofing gallery with a selection of edited images within 2-3 weeks. You will be able to select your favorites and chose a certain number of photos depending on your package amount. Once you confirm your selection, I will finalize the edits a bit, and then send you the final gallery within the next few days after! Please note, that the longer you take to pick your favorites, the longer it will take to give you your final gallery.

Once you receive your final gallery. It will be available for up to 3 months. After that, your gallery will expire.

Please be sure to download + save + backup all your images for safe keeping. After delivery, I will not be responsible for storage of your images. (client files are cleared out every year).
